Ideas dancing around the room

Create space for new ideas, be guided by your inspirations, and bring your loved ones close to your dreams and feelings. Create a place in which you feel happy; an oasis that transports your family and friends into your heart. bulthaup b Solitaire will become a special element of your living space, representing both a focal point and openness. Created with your everyday needs in mind, b Solitaire is the platform through which you can express your individualism and which accompanies you on your journey – wherever it may lead. Made from materials hand-crafted to perfection, the b Solitaire – your b Solitaire – is created at our factory in Aich. Over the years, our employees have finessed the finish and expression of form down to a fine art. No detail was too small to be irrelevant. b Solitaire elements for the living space were born to suit every lifestyle. They are elements that offer great things right from the start so that you can achieve great things yourself.

Feel the uniqueness

Wood radiates warmth. It is a natural and living material that combines tradition with modernity. Unique grain patterns and unusual growth characteristics give the b Solitaire an unmistakably individual character. The oak wood, sourced from Central Europe, is chosen by expert craftsmen at the factory in Aich and processed to create slats and solid elements. Special surface treatments, such as natural oiling or the application of natural wood varnish, prepare the wood for your personal needs. No matter how you use your bulthaup b Solitaire, our wood will complement you. It lives, it changes with time, and it picks up the traces of your life without losing any of its authenticity.

Outstanding resilience and secure anchoring

Every material tells its own story. Stainless steel and cast iron tell a story of technical and functional requirements. The enameled cast metal grid with its robust heat-resistant bars ensures stability thanks to its weight. It is therefore also ideal for the b Solitaire with wooden top. Yet first and foremost, steel also tells your very own story. The blasted stainless steel top with its satin surface develops an unmistakable patina over time, in accordance with its use. An expression of life; as individual as people.

This moment keeps coming back

bulthaup b Solitaire gives you scope for changes yet fits in with your living space like a well-loved personal belonging. It joins you on your journey and grows with you. At the heart of it is the crossed frame, made from aluminum and designed to provide space for the smaller and not-so-small ideas in life. Be inspired by the moments and passion that life brings and create your very own b Solitaire.

Harmonious base

A solid foundation is the basis for each construction; an open, matt-black, deep-anodized aluminum frame provides the base for the bulthaup b Solitaire. It is designed to cast everyday objects as well as precious mementos in a wonderful light. Combined with surfaces made from cold-rolled stainless steel, transparent glass or solid oak, your b Solitaire becomes a lifelong companion that loses none of its practicality even after years of intensive use.

Remembering also means returning to the here and now. Memories come together to form a picture that inspires my voice - and ~~with~~ with that my reason.
Today, the first snow has fallen. I love this sound; it seems almost ~~but~~ delayed - muffled sounds that do not sound at all cold.
Quite the opposite: They ~~are~~ radiate the warmth of our experiences, as though my thoughts are being preserved for all eternity.
They give me the awareness of being right here. Not in thoughts of the past and even not in thoughts of the future.
You and me. Here and now.

it's about
yours and mine

How can two halves
of shared happiness
be greater than the whole?

Deep inside, we all harbor the need for familiarity and togetherness. What really makes life matter are the simple moments that we share together – these cannot be surpassed in terms of their authenticity. Life writes the stories, we make them relevant. We are accompanied by things that define us, remind us, and which go with us as we grow and develop. bulthaup b Solitaire accompanies you on your own personal journey and therefore becomes part of your unique story.

The aluminum frame serves as the platform for a wide array of equipment options, allowing the bulthaup b Solitaire to be configured according to individual needs. The equipment options include tops made from solid oak, stainless steel and glass. Shelves, pull-out trays, with and without glass tops, grids made from oak and anthracite-colored enameled cast steel, perfectly integrated cowhide inlays, and prisms in wood, give you a wide variety of functional and design possibilities.

What does a day in Provence smell like? Impressions come together to form a bright, radiant picture. The warmth and association with the "now" of the present day are so wonderful that I can't even write my thoughts down the next day. I'm too afraid that the details of my thoughts will disappear overnight or create a latent image if I only write them down in my diary tomorrow. When day becomes night, the warmth ~~is~~ remains in the dry walls around the lavender fields, in the words of the long evening, and in the laughter of friends around the table. This warmth remains everywhere and radiates like a sunny day - even in the early morning. Can this evening last forever?

Nothing is more precious than the joy of remembering

bulthaup b Solitaire is a piece of your life story, shaped by countless moments and characterized by your style. Timeless in its simplicity and a fixed element of your living space even after many years, it has experienced relationships, friendships or love affairs and absorbed them into itself. This intimacy will continue into the future.

The table is the heart and soul of our lives and the core of the bulthaup b Solitaire. In the emotional center of the room, it sets the stage for unforgettable moments. The b Solitaire table represents the shared experiences, the moments with family and friends, that stay with us all our lives. The table is built using traditional craftsman methods. We chose solid oak wood for the table top specifically for its natural and intrinsically harmonious overall appearance. It rests on the matt-black, deep-anodized aluminum frame. The two black stay bolts in the table top continue the design of the aluminum frame and connect the table frame and the top. In terms of their function, they offset the natural wood tension and are visually striking.

Unique creations for all eternity

For millennia, leather has been used to create long-lasting and exquisite personal accessories. Through high-quality processing methods such as vegetable tanning or treatment with wax, the cowhide sourced from southern Germany develops its true potential for the bulthaup Solitaire. Use over time and the effects of light help to create an unmistakable aesthetic patina. A true companion, our leather will become a mirror of your habits and moments that highlight your personality and which characterizes you and your life – for many years to come.

it's about
further and longer

What will it be that brings us together tomorrow?

An heirloom carries stories onwards to new shores; it enlivens the place with warmth and gives it an identity. In this way, even a new beginning becomes part of the story and continues the narrative. New goals and fresh ideas put a spring in your step and create prospects for the future. Yet at the core is the familiar, so we are able to proceed with courage.

Transparent elegance

Glass displays without concealing. Glass protects without giving anything away. The combination of superb transparency and robust elegance makes glass a valuable element of your bulthaup b Solitaire. Just like a gemstone, the glass that has been crafted and polished with maximum precision shimmers in the light and gives the room a subtle glow. Showcase your collections or everyday essentials and allow your bulthaup b Solitaire to tell the stories you want.

The bulthaup b Solitaires can be used from all sides. Thanks to free-standing positioning in the room, the b Solitaires overcome barriers and develop new living spaces. Thanks to their lightweight and transparent appearance, they also act as elements that can divide or connect spaces. The simplistic yet precious aura of the matt-black aluminum allows you to combine the b Solitaires perfectly with existing furniture. This results in freedom to create your world in your own personal style.

It's rare that an idea conveys memories to us that are so clear and present. It was an object from my trip to Barcelona that projected thousands of images into my mind. ~~Every~~ Every detail was instantly there - tangible and omnipresent. My senses captured the entire scene of that side street off La Rambla - how I've missed this moment! The smells, the light, and the sounds. And suddenly there it was again. Are there many moments like this in life? Or do we just draw on a few of them ~~as~~ our whole lives? I don't know, but I'm relying on many more similar moments coming my way.

Epilog

The individual and the moment
are what count

At bulthaup, we believe in special moments: moments that remain in our memories forever and which anchor themselves in our souls. From the very start, we have believed that people are yearning for a special place where everything is in harmony and in which we truly feel at home and like we have arrived. This place is where we enjoy the most wonderful hours of our lives together with our loved ones and which we enjoy with all our senses. A place in which everything simply coordinates. This is why at bulthaup, we deem it our mission to design this special place in a manner that is as individual and discerning as people themselves. After all, our passion is for people with all of their different needs and customs. People are happy when they can grow and develop, surrounded by family and friends while they talk, eat, and laugh. In company, people develop their primeval instincts, soulful happiness and commitment, and create special moments. We use only authentic materials and quality in its purest form. We believe in our bulthaup employees who, with passion and skill, turn your wishes into something truly special every single day. As a result, we have invested all of our expertise and our values in the development, design and perfection of the b Solitaire. We have taken our passion for detail to its zenith. People only blossom once they surround themselves with beauty and beautiful things. The beauty of the b Solitaire family lets the imagination run free. It is this same imagination that enables people to bring b Solitaires to life with their own, individual objects. Only then is a b Solitaire perfect and a mirror of the soul, meaning that you can create your own atmosphere and your perfect home. Display your personal objects in your bulthaup b Solitaire and become the curator of your own living space.
